

Sheppard: gitnagun'aks

The gitnagun'aks are a laxman people (this is a common word to mean people of the salt water).
These houses trace their ancestry from Kugunaks:

t'amks
tsagamse'gisk
ni·sna'·tsk
sagunε't ·ati·daks } of gispaxl'ots

ni·s'omage'ε'
wutsi'nt } of gitwilg'ots

Some other people claim they came from Kugunaks, but they really came from a gidastsu village, gitnagilha'oli:

lε'ns
kwutyuhu'sk } gispaxl'ots

Many gitxa'ta
come from this place.

Maxwell: gitnagun'aks

One branch of this group came from gidastsu' and settled at laxkwε'·naks "on springs" on the Skena. They are called the gitlaxkwε'·naks:

t'a'mks
tsagamse'gisk } gispaxl'ots.

wu'tsi'nt
ni·s'omage'ε'
l'ide'·o } gitwilg'ots

l'ε'ptsi'dzi'ust
wudime's
t'i'·ban } gitlε'n

Maxwell. gitlɛ'n file

The gitlaxkwɛ'nɔks division of gitnɔgɔnɔks people of m'ɔnɔnɔ

They came from g'idɔstɔ and settled on the Skena at laxkwɛ'nɔks, hence their name. Those that come from this place are:

gitlɛ'n	1	lɔpt'sidziust	[ VIII IX XII ]
	2	wudime's
	3	t'rebɔn

gispaɔlɔts	4	t'a'mɔks
	5	tsaxamsɛ'gisk

gitwilgɔts	6	wu'tsi'nt
	7	nɔs'omɔɛ'
	8	lide'ɔ

They all have one root in common: the g'idɔd u'ɔ/s : alive all over all over alive

a figure of a woman