p 86 kaigarny After having doubled the Cape, I steered towards a village, at the back of a little cove, the first on ascending the west side of the port."

p 87 Masset "Early on the 26th we entered the port, or rather arm of the sea, at Masset, under the guidance of an Indian named Tayan ... at eight o'clock we passed the southeast point, and soon after, being opposite to a large village, we were surrounded by canoes. ..." Anchored

4 villages

"as far as we could judge, the huts composing the four villages on the two sides of the entrance, are better built, and in better order, than those of the north. There is something picturesque in the whole appearance of this large village; it is particularly remarkable for the monstrous and colossal figures which decorate the houses of the principal inhabitants, and the wide gaping mouths of which serve as a door." p 88.

29th. "Itemtchou the head chief of Masset came in a handsome canoe, accompanied by his three wives. His face is long, a little morose and savage, and has something of the Swiss character.... we conferred by means of an Indian of Skidigats, named Intchortge. ... He thought I wanted to change names with him ... the exchange was made, notwithstanding the difficulty the chief found in pronouncing his new name, which, to oblige him, I softened into Roki." p 89 Approach. "My friend Item tchou" chased swarms of canoes away. "This man has a feeling heart, and p90 this, perhaps, prevented all hostile attacks from his subjects.

Got away on 31st Aug around Rose Spit p92 Indians invited them to visit Skitansnana, a village. (Skidans)
