Dear Wilson,

It was good to see you last month; I only wish there was more time to talk. In any case Ron and I are planning to drive to the coast this spring and I hope we can meet then. It seems that our contract with the National Museum to do a survey of Canadian rock art is going to be finalized for sure and so our plans in that regard seem definite, although exactly when between about May 15 and early June we will be in Vancouver is not yet certain.

I did not go to England to deliver my paper and as yet have had no response - I merely sent it to be read. The only other Canadian there, I understand was George Swinton. Strange meeting - all sorts of others should have been there who weren't.

We are sending a copy of our recent book on the Peterborough site and hope you will enjoy rereading it - just another thing that has interrupted my work this past year on my Northwest Coast interests.

Hope to see you soon.
