"On the west end of Maude Island, a few miles only from Skidegate village, is now situated what may be called the New Gold Harbour Village. This has been in existence a few years only, having been built by the Haidas formerly inhabiting Gold Harbour, or Port Kuper, on ground amicably purchased from the Skidegate Haidas for the purpose.....

...the Indians, though still preserving their rights over the Gold Harbour region, and living there much of the summer, find it more convenient to have their permanent houses near Skidegate. The population of the place is about equal to that of the Skidegate village, though its appearance is much less imposing, as the houses which have been erected, are comparatively few and of small size, and there are as yet few carved posts.

The two villages on the west coast, now almost abandoned by these people, are called Kai-shun and Cha-atl,...
